The Course

This qualification has been developed to recognise candidates’ skills, knowledge and understanding of the Special Educational Needs sector and their ability to deliver effective teaching sessions to learners with dyslexia/specific learning difficulties.

Candidates will learn about legislation relating to Special Educational Needs, understand the importance of assessments by specialist educators and how to assess the needs of individuals. They will also be able to plan, teach and evaluate learning programmes for individuals with dyslexia/specific learning difficulties/literacy difficulties.

This qualification is designed to provide a route for continued professional development for teachers and other professionals such as learning support staff in schools and learning support tutors and trainers in further education.

Target Group

This qualification is designed to provide a route for continued professional development for teachers and other professionals working within one phase of educational provision – primary, secondary or adult who support learners with specific learning difficulties in literacy and numeracy acquisition.

The target group is likely to include:

- Classroom teachers and learning support staff in schools
- Learning support tutors and trainers in FE and/or basic skills training
- Qualified teachers who work as independent practitioners
- Learning support tutors in HE Institution
- Speech and Language Therapists and other health professionals working in an educational setting
Level 5

Diploma in teaching Learners with Dyslexia/Specific Learning Difficulties

- Chartered/graduate psychologists

Entry Requirements
These qualifications are designed primarily for qualified practising and experienced teachers and other professionals who hold recognised professional qualifications. Although Dyslexia Matters promotes open access to all qualifications, in practice, candidates who do not have a professional background in providing learning support may find it difficult to access opportunities to generate the full range of evidence required to achieve the full qualification.

Candidates should possess an appropriate level of learning support experience and should have unrestricted access to appropriate teaching and assessment practice.

It is anticipated that candidates will have a high level of skill and be working at or above the equivalent of Level 3 in the following key skill areas: literacy, numeracy, ICT, working with others, improving own learning and problem solving.

Progression
Candidates will be able to progress to a Level 7 Diploma in Assessing and Teaching Learners with Specific Learning Difficulties (Dyslexia). They will also be able to progress to MEds and other higher level qualifications in education.
